

PVRI Annual Congress 2026

Abstract guidelines, terms & conditions

- Abstracts (in English) should be uploaded through PVRI's EventsAir abstract submissions portal and be no more than 300 words. No figures or tables should be included.
- The names of all authors and affiliated institutions (in English) must be written in full and uploaded under the Authors and Affiliations section of the abstract submission's portal. The abstract title, authors and institutions are not included in the word count. Authors' names should be labelled with numbers to match with their affiliations.
- All correspondence relating to abstracts will be undertaken by email with the submitting author. It is their responsibility to communicate any relevant information regarding the submitted abstract and the Congress to the other authors.
- There are 4 themes for the Dublin meeting listed below. When submitting your abstract, please indicate which theme you believe best fits your abstract. However, please note that the organisers may amend the category without notice. All submitted abstracts may be considered for an oral presentation in our main Congress programme.

Abstract themes:

1. Basic & Translational Science
 2. Clinical Science
 3. International & Global Health
 4. Mind the Gap: Cases that Highlight Gaps in Evidence
- We are delighted to offer several travel awards for the best abstracts, including the Rupert Swift Award and the Butrous Foundation Young Investigator Award, please indicate when submitting if you want your abstract to be considered for an award.
 - The accuracy of the submitted abstract is the responsibility of the authors. You should prepare and proofread your abstract carefully before submitting to ensure it is the final version.
 - The text version of all accepted abstracts will be published in our journal, Pulmonary Circulation, and may appear on the PVRI website. If you do not want your abstract published, you can indicate this during the submission process.
 - There is no fee for abstract submission, but you must have a current PVRI membership to submit.
 - Abstracts should be uploaded to <https://pvri.eventsair.com/pvri2026/abstracts>. Once submitted, you will receive a confirmation email. Should you need to withdraw your abstract for any reason after submission, please contact us at events@pvrinstitute.org.
